OCIA (Order of Christian Initiation of Adults)

We believe that Jesus had two natures, a human one and a divine one. This means that He was fully human and fully divine - both God and man.

RELIGIOUS VOCATIONS

"This is my beloved Son, listen to Him." Could the Lord be calling your child to proclaim His name as a priest or in consecrated life? Listen to Him and reach out to your priest, religious coordinator, or diocesan vocation director.

Am I a Lazy Catholic???

Choosing to prioritize leisure and pleasure over one's spiritual responsibilities can lead to a complacent attitude towards one's faith, resulting in what some may term a "lazy Catholic" mentality. This mindset, driven by the desire for immediate gratification and enjoyment, often overlooks the deeper significance of one's spiritual journey and the call to discipleship.

At the core of Catholicism lies the invitation to a life of discipleship and holiness, rooted in love for God and neighbor. However, when the pursuit of pleasure becomes the primary focus, it can overshadow the importance of nurturing one's relationship with God and living out the values of the Gospel. The temptation to prioritize leisure activities over spiritual practices can lead to spiritual stagnation and a lack of growth in one's faith journey.

Moreover, succumbing to the allure of "having fun" at the expense of one's spiritual life can result in a superficial understanding of happiness and fulfillment. While temporary pleasures may provide momentary satisfaction, they often fail to offer lasting joy and meaning. True fulfillment, according to Catholic teaching, is found in aligning one's life with the will of God and striving for holiness in all aspects of life.

Furthermore, being a "lazy Catholic" can hinder one's ability to fully participate in the life of the Church and contribute to the building of God's kingdom on earth. Active engagement in spiritual practices such as prayer, sacramental participation, and works of charity are essential components of the Christian life. Neglecting these practices in favor of leisure activities can result in a disconnection from the faith community and a lack of involvement in the Church's mission of spreading the Gospel and serving others.

However, it is important to recognize that being a "lazy Catholic" is not a permanent state but rather a challenge to overcome. By acknowledging the temptation to prioritize pleasure over spiritual growth and actively seeking to address it, individuals can begin to realign their priorities and deepen their commitment to their faith. This may involve making intentional choices to incorporate spiritual practices into daily life, seeking accountability and support from fellow believers, and fostering a deeper understanding of the richness and beauty of the Catholic faith.

Ultimately, being a "lazy Catholic" reflects a failure to fully embrace the call to discipleship and the abundant life offered by Christ. By overcoming the lure of immediate gratification and recommitting to a life of faithfulness and obedience to God, individuals can experience true joy, fulfillment, and purpose in their spiritual journey as Catholics.

Blessings,
Deacon Mike

Our Annual Mardi Gras Party was a blast! Such delicious food, wonderful costumes, and lively music that had everyone dancing! Thank you to all who planned this festive night!

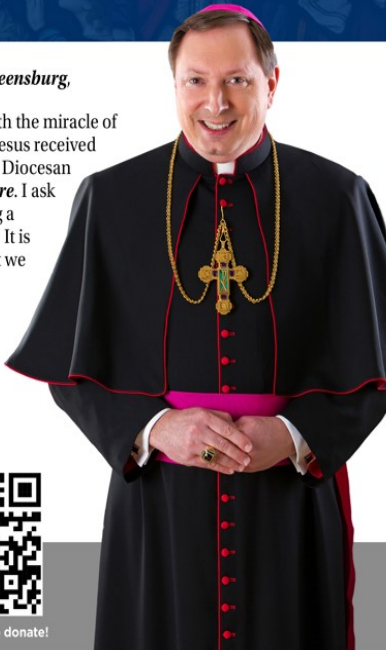

Dear Friends of the Diocese of Greensburg,

As Catholics, we all are familiar with the miracle of the loaves and the fishes. Simply, Jesus received and shared. The theme of the 2024 Diocesan Lenten Appeal is Receive and Share. I ask you to prayerfully consider making a donation. Thank you for your help. It is in the sharing of what we have that we truly become disciples of Christ.

Yours in Christ,
